

The ODJB has been caught in commentator crossfire over the years. The standing and place of the band in the prevailing culture has been questioned, but currently its standing and place in history seems to be widely accepted. Meanwhile, the music is there to be enjoyed.

"A brass band gone crazy!"

That's the way a wag describes the original Dixieland "Jass" Band. Beyond that description we can't tell you what a "Jass" Band is because we don't know ourselves.

As for what it does—it makes dancers want to dance more—and more - and yet more! Just have another look at the picture above—you can almost hear the hilarious music of the "Jass" Band in your ears.

You'll want to hear the first Victor Record by this organized disorganization—it's a "winner." "Livery Stable Blues," a fox trot, and "Dixieland Jass Band One-Step" are played with charming ferocity and penetration.

Victor double-faced Record, 18255. Ten-inch, 75c.
